Clarification concerning Admission of the Plaintiff by the Supreme Administrative Court

According to the news in the public source stating that the Supreme Administrative Court admitted the claim in respect of the government authorities neglect to revoke the concession agreements granted to Shin Corporation's group companies. In accordance with such case, the plaintiff filed the claim against the Ministry of Information and Communication Technology (ICT), Telephone Organization of Thailand (TOT) with the Ministry of Transportation, and the Office of the Permanent Secretary/ the Prime Minister Office due to their omission to inspect and revoke the Concession Agreements pursuant to the rules of frequency management and control.

Shin Corporation's group companies, consisting of Shin Corporation Public Company Limited (SHIN), Advance Info Service Public Company Limited (ADVANC), Shin Satellite Public Company Limited (SATTEL) and ITV Public Company Limited (ITV), according to the news, would like to clarify that such case and claim is an individual's claim filed for the omission of the government authorities for doing their duty according to the law which does not involve with Shin Corporation's group companies and that claim isn't an argument or dispute under the Concession Agreement between the grantor and the concessionaire.

Shin Corporation Public Company Limited still operates the business as usual and its affiliates and group companies continue to manage and operate their business in accordance with the terms and conditions of the Concession Agreement between them and the grantors. Upon receipt of any further update by the relevant party or any formal conclusion, Shin Corporation Public Company Limited will promptly inform you the updated information.

Please be informed accordingly.
